B.Tech CSE Student | Cybersecurity & Network Engineering Enthusiast

Malappuram, Kerala, India

Summary

I'm a B.Tech Computer Science and Engineering student with a strong interest in cybersecurity, network engineering, and software development.
Passionate about exploring how technology can solve real-world problems, I enjoy:

Learning and experimenting with open-source tools

Building impactful and secure tech solutions

Exploring problem-solving through coding competitions and projects

Currently, I'm sharpening my skills in Python, C, and networking concepts, while actively participating in events, hackathons, and collaborative projects.

My long-term goal is to grow as a cybersecurity professional and innovator, contributing to creating safer and more efficient systems.
